OUTLOOK

Short term outlook

- BAM has warned of increasing IS activity south of Sirte. The warnings come as the LNA threatens BAM's control over the city. All three forces are present in the area making it a dynamic and complex environment at the current time. Both BAM and LNA have stepped up their activity, increasing the potential for another confrontation.
- Tensions have increased around Derna following the downing of an LNA jet by the MSCD. Reports suggest the pilot may have been executed by MSCD leading to the LNA increasing the siege around the city.
- Tensions are currently elevated along the Zuwara, Sabratah and Zawiyah coastal areas due to a number of issues including the murder of a key commander in Sabratah, against the backdrop of ongoing smuggling and people trafficking operations. Additional troops are reportedly being deployed into Sabratah to combat the threat of IS, however, this has caused tensions with Ahmed Dabbashi's Amu Militia.
- Remnants of opposition elements in Sabri, Benghazi have regrouped resulting in further fighting. The threat from opposition remnants and IEDs remain in the area, and further incidents are expected as the LNA continues clearance operations.
- There is an increase in anti-Italian sentiment following the deployment of an Italian naval asset into Libyan waters.

Medium to long term outlook

- The political and security environment in Libya continues to absorb the impact of the GCC move to isolate Qatar. The east of the country remains supportive of the move and is looking to exploit the situation to reduce the influence and threat from some opponents in country while they look to shape international support.
- GNA President Serraj and LNA commander Khalifa Haftar remain central to international stakeholders' attempts to unify east and west, however alternative solutions are being pursued by other entities with opposing factions. As factions move closer to a possible deal, tensions are likely to increase inside Libya, and there is potential for some level of fragmentation of their support bases. As a result, new alliances may be formed as progress leaves some with reducing levels of influence.
- The remnants of the GNC, which has allegedly benefited from Qatari support, remain largely politically isolated after losing their footprint in the capital at the end of May. Their last attempt to take territory in the capital by force failed when their fighters were forced from Garabuli on 11 July, and support appears to be waning. The threat is assessed to be evolving as the GNC, and associated forces adapt to the changing environment. While intent is assessed to remain, especially for the hardliners, tactics may alter.

SIGNIFICANT EVENTS

Governance

- Italy has deployed a naval asset into Libyan waters in a bid to help curb illegal migration. The issue has caused tensions with the east with Haftar threatening to take military action. The move has also resulted in an increase in anti-Italian sentiment.
- The push for reconciliation between Misrata and the east has continued this week with another meeting in Cairo. The handing over of a senior commander, wanted by the LNA for commanding opposition forces in Sabri, by security forces in Khoms with the support of Misrata, may be a manifestation of this process.
- Prime Minister of the Interim Government, Abdullah Thinni, was in court this week over defamation claims from his previous interior minister. Thinni is also considering taking legal action against an activist who claimed in a TV interview that Thinni was embezzling funds from the health sector.

Security

- Tensions escalated in Derna this week after the MSCD shot down a MiG-21 and executed its pilot. The siege around the city has been tightened, and ground clashes have taken place. LNA Special Forces in Benghazi are preparing to deploy to the city, which may back up reports that the LNA is planning a large ground operation.

04 August 2017

- The LNA has moved into siege mode in Sabri, Benghazi against the last remaining RSCB positions. Fighting will continue until the LNA has full control. Civilians continue to fall victim to IEDs and UXO.
- An IS checkpoint was reported late at night on 29 July, south of Sirte. The fighters were looking for BAM members. The LNA also established a checkpoint 50km to the east of the city.
- An attempt to dislodge al-Kani Brigade from the Tarhunah Cement Works, a source of revenue, has failed.
- A soldier from 301 Brigade was shot dead at a checkpoint in Serraj, Tripoli in a revenge attack for the arrest of a drugs lord in al-Swani area.
- Tensions are high along the Coastal Road between Warshefana and Zawiyah after two incidents involving militants from Zawiyah and Warshefana.

Migrant Crisis

- The Italian coastguard begins to take action against NGOs operating in the Mediterranean, seizing a German vessel they claim is in collusion with people smugglers in Libya.

LATEST DEVELOPMENTS

Security

Derna: Tensions escalate after LNA pilot is executed by MSCD

Tensions around Derna escalated this week after the MSCD shot down a MiG-21 fighter jet using a SAM-18 missile on 29 July after it had carried out an airstrike. The pilot was then reported to have been captured by the MSCD and quickly executed for carrying out airstrikes which had “killed women and children.” The LNA responded by announcing it was tightening the siege around the city. The incident comes after indicators suggested the negotiations over the city are beginning to stumble.

At dawn on 30 July, MSCD ‘Special Forces’ launched an offensive against three LNA locations at al-Kasarat, al-Ardam School, and Hajjaj al-Heelah. Five LNA soldiers were killed, and four wounded while MSCD stated they had taken a number of vehicles and ammunition as well as burning three tanks in Hajjaj al-Heelah. MSCD lost one fighter. Later that day, the LNA launched a counterattack, taking Kasarat.

Benghazi: LNA fall into siege mode against remaining RSCB positions

Fighting continued in Benghazi at the start of the week as the LNA attempted to clear the last remaining RSCB positions. Towards the end of the week, the fighting calmed as the LNA moved into siege mode around the positions. Further fighting is expected as LNA fight for complete control. Defensive IEDs, planted by RSCB in an effort to maintain control over territory, continue to claim civilian victims. The city continues its march back towards normalcy with teams of civilians beginning to tidy areas with LNA elements supporting by clearing UXO and IEDs. The scale of fighting and amount of ordnance used and emplaced are placing pressure on available LNA assets and efforts to make the area safe are expected to take months or longer.

Tarhunah: Attempt to dislodge al-Khani Brigade fails

This week, youths from Suq al-Khamis, located between Tarhunah and Gasr Ben Gashir, forced the resident al-Kani Brigade from the Tarhunah cement works on 28 July. Al-Kani, an Islamist militia associated with LIFG, had protected the site for two years and reportedly pocketed the profits of 100,000 LYD a month. Al-Kani returned that evening with tanks and heavy weaponry. Fighting continued overnight with four youths reported to have been killed and six taken hostage. The brigade retook control of the cement works, however, reports suggested that unidentified aircraft had bombed an al-Kani ammunition dump, killing two members of the security forces.

Migrant Crisis

Deployment of Italian naval asset raises tensions with the east

On 23 July, Sarraj reportedly sent a letter to the Italian Prime Minister Paolo Gentiloni. The letter asked for technical support from Italy, in the form of Italian naval vessels being sent into Libyan territorial waters, to help curb the flow of migrants heading across the Mediterranean. A plan was approved by the Italian government on 28 July and was expected to see a deployment within a week. The same day, however, Sarraj denied he had given permission for a foreign navy to cross in territorial waters in an attempt to distance himself personally from the issue. Contradictory messages were pushed out in the days which followed, suggesting indecision and a lack of consensus amongst the PC and Sarraj.

On 02 August, reports indicated that an Italian naval boat had docked at Abu Sitta Naval Base in Tripoli, the home of the GNA. In response, Haftar threatened to take military action against any foreign "non-commercial" vessels entering Libyan waters while the HoR sent strong objections to Sarraj and Rome.
